WHAT: www.WhenHurricanesStrike.com is a Web site created by Global Media Outreach (GMO) to meet the needs of people during uncertain times.

WHO: Michelle Diedrich, Global Media Outreach Communications Director

WHEN: By appointment

WHERE: Via phone

DETAILS: www.WhenHurricanesStrike.com is one of over 70 different Web sites available through GMO. It was specifically designed to bring peace to those who are facing possible tragedy from a natural disaster such as a hurricane.

Whenever people look for information, they look to the Internet. GMO is using this tool to bring the mission field to the doorsteps of anyone with access to the World Wide Web.

Hundreds of people each day indicate decisions for Christ through GMO. Then, through e-mail, the conversation and study of Christ continues using additional information accessible through GMO. Whether someone has decided to become a follower of Christ, rededicated their life to Christ or still has questions, GMO can provide prayer, guidance and discipleship through the online ministry response centers. GMO also offers online Bible studies, Web sites with next steps for the journey and links to local church communities.
